WHEN YOU PRAY

SUNDAY OCT. 11H, 2020

JARED BOYD

A wide-angle photograph of a desert landscape. The foreground and middle ground are filled with undulating, layered rock formations in shades of tan, beige, and light brown. The layers are horizontal, suggesting sedimentary deposition. In the background, more distant and hazy mountain ranges are visible under a deep purple and blue sky, indicating twilight or dawn. The overall mood is serene and majestic.

The Primary goal of prayer is joyful, grateful, worshipful enjoyment of the fathers company.
-John Mark Comer

Unless you break the stronghold of false images of God in your mind, you'll never be drawn to prayer. The angels have been locked in a room with God for thousands of years and they still haven't gotten past the word "holy, holy, holy." If your bored with God you may be the person whose boring, or it could be that your just distracted by trivia in our culture. When you break through that boredom, you'll be drawn to the glory of who God really is.

-Jon Tyson

The background image is a wide-angle photograph of a desolate, arid landscape. In the foreground and middle ground, there are rolling hills and valleys with a light tan or beige color palette. A dark, winding river or dry creek bed cuts through the landscape, snaking from the lower left towards the center. The terrain appears to be composed of eroded earth or sand. In the far distance, more mountainous or hilly regions are visible under a pale, hazy sky that transitions from a light blue to a soft purple or lavender hue, suggesting either dawn or dusk. The overall atmosphere is one of vastness and solitude.

To clasp the hands in prayer is the beginning of an uprising against the disorder of the World
-Karl Barth
